STEEL BOARD FENCE

The first of its kind, the Steel Board Fence is a post and rail board fence made of steel and made to last. Ideal for the ranch, farm or home, this fence is a superior alternative to wood or plastic fencing. "Pictures do not do this fence justice," is a comment we often hear. Imagine a fence with the following outstanding features:

Strength and Durability. Steel by its very nature is much stronger than wood or vinyl and functions exceptionally well outdoors when properly treated and designed. The Steel Board Fence is made of two-sided zinc galvanized steel coated with a phosphate conversion coating and architectural grade powder coating. The paint adhesion is outstanding and the resistance to corrosion or fading is superior.

Long Lasting and Maintenance Free. The expected lifetime of the Steel Board Fence is 25 plus years and easily more. The powder coated finish does not require painting because it will not chip, peel or crack. There is no need to replace rails because they will not warp, mold, sag or splinter. The posts are set in cement and deep enough to prevent heaving. The Steel Board Fence will retain its color, crisp straight lines and well-maintained appearance for decades with virtually zero maintenance.

Cleverly Designed and Easily Installed. The posts are pre-punched with rail openings lined with patented rubber grommets that protect the rails surface. Inside each post is a patented lock spacer that holds the rails in place and eliminates the need for nails or screws. The rails are easily articulated within each post to fit any terrain or layout. The aesthetics and value of your property are instantly enhanced with the Steel Board Fence.

Horse Safe. The Steel Board Fence is highly visible with rounded, smooth edges and no fasteners or nails. While the steel gives the fence tremendous strength, the long rails and rubber grommets enhance the rails flex. A horse will more likely be cushioned upon impact and not injured. The rails will not break and instead spring back to perfectly straight, safely keeping the horse within the fence boundaries.

Eco-Friendly. Steel is one of the most commonly recycled products because it costs much less to make products from recycled steel than virgin steel. You can feel good about buying a fence that is 100% recyclable and will not end up in a landfill. Instead, at the end of its very long and useful life, the Steel Board Fence will remain a valuable commodity as scrap metal.

STEEL BOARD GATE

The Steel Board Gate has all of the same features as the fence. It is strong, durable, long lasting and maintenance free. Designed to match the Steel Board Fence, it has the following unique design features:

- Hinge-less Design. The gate rests on top of the gate post on a built-in dual bearing system inside the post-end of the gate. The gate post engages the upper bearing assembly inside the gate which allows the gate to open and close easily and quietly.
- Leveling Mechanism. After the gate is placed on the gate post and engages the upper internal bearing, the gate is leveled by rotating the lower bearing. When the gate is level, the bearing lock screw is tightened and the gate is kept perfectly level at all times.

The Steel Board Gate comes in four different sizes: 4, 6, 8 and 12 feet, and in three (3) or four (4) rail designs. It is offered in the same textured black or glossy white finish as the fence.

The Steel Board Gate is also compatible with any wood or vinyl fence.

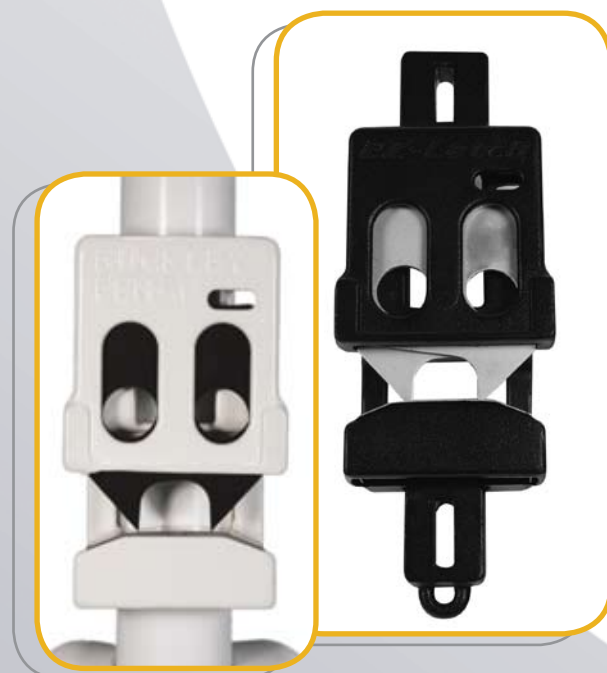

GATE LATCHES

We offer two different latch styles for your gate, the Buckley Latch and the EZLatch. They are reliable, horse tamper proof and easy to install. Also cleverly designed with the following unique features:

- Their two-way operation makes it easy to open and throw the gate closed from either direction while on your horse.
- The latch pin rests on the latch plate when the gate is closed, alleviating the weight on the gate post.
- Both are made of corrosion resistant aluminum alloy with stainless steel inserts.
- Horizontal and vertical adjustments can be made anytime during or after installation.

The Buckley Latch fits a 2 3/8" pipe style fence only. Its shorter height makes it a good fit on pipe style fences with 4 or more rails.

The EZLatch fits a wider range of fence types including our Alumashield and Steel Board Fences and any other vinyl, wood or pipe style fence. It includes provision to use a standard pad lock and a convenient loop to hang the lock when not in use.
